

The Daily Picayune.

BY LUMSDEN, KENDALL & CO., PRINTERS TO MUNICIPALITY NO. 270, [OFFICE 72 CAMP STREET.]

Tuesday Morning, September 15.

FOREIGN NEWS.—During the present month we are to have news by no less than four steam packets from the old world.

DISTINGUISHED STRANGERS.—There arrived here on Sunday morning our countryman, Jno. Howard Payne, in company with the following distinguished individuals: John Ross, Lewis Ross, Elijah Hicks, Jno. Loney, Archibald Campbell, and J. Parker Ridgeway.

LAW DOINGS IN THE FIRST MUNICIPALITY.—Recorder's Court.—State vs. Alexander Augustus Randolph. The defendant occupies an office as an "attorney in fact" in St. Ann street.

VERMONT ELECTION.—Our latest returns say—Vermont has elected the Whig ticket, throughout, by a majority which will probably exceed 8,000!

MORE OF THE BUEL BURGLARIES.—Almost every hour brings forward fresh proofs of the ramified system of robberies carried on by Buel, his hopeful family and whatever other co-partners he may have had.

On the 19th July last the store of James Tibble, corner of Bienville and Bourbon streets, was robbed of 18 pieces of Irish linen and 3 pieces of lawn.

COODELL vs. HAUN.—In this case it was given in evidence that the character of the plaintiff was "bad." We so reported the testimony in our paper of Sunday morning.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.—The steamboat Echo has made a new arrangement, by which passengers from this city to Mobile, and from Mobile to this city, can make the trip entire for ten dollars.

It doesn't make a great deal of difference to us, but for the credit of the country, the honor of an ex-President, and the reputation of an illustrious statesman, we would just like to have it in our power to expunge the concluding paragraphs of those two letters which lately passed between Andrew Jackson and Henry Clay.

News.—Wherever we find a piece of news in a paper, we are pleased, particularly if it be good—for two reasons, first, because we like to know all that is really new; and secondly, because we can let our readers know it also.

THE VANDALIA ARRIVED YESTERDAY, AND TO THE constant courtesy of her officers we are indebted for late St. Louis and Vicksburg papers.

It is our happy lot yesterday. We had overhauled, and waded through, and read a barrel of papers, the very last one was in our hands, we were about throwing it with the others, when the words "News of the Day" caught our eye.

There is a man in this city so fat that it requires a "clock work" and "steam" legs to hold up his sides.—Rich. Star.

It is lucky that neither of these fellows can boast of teeth, as they would certainly bite each other's nose off.

Can the Evening Signal inform us whether or not there is such a thing to be obtained in New York as Pease's Horchard Candy? Do tell us, we are dying to know.—New Orleans Picayune.

Very pretty girls, sell the candy—what do you think of that, Mr. Picayune.—Evening Signal.

Why of course! that accounts for the miraculous virtue of the candy. Kuh-huh! kuh! kuh-huh! Bless us what a cold we have got!

Recorder's Court.—SECOND MUNICIPALITY.—The Recorder's calendar was not unusually weighty the last two days. John Wilson was among the number. John is a gone case, and we believe it would take the most super-human powers of a father Mathew to reclaim him.

Wilson acknowledged, when questioned by the Recorder, that he did take a sun'm'ud on Saturday night; that what he did to any one or what any one did to him, was all a blank in his memory; that he felt his head and his shins soreish but could not account for it.

Wilson acknowledged, when questioned by the Recorder, that he did take a sun'm'ud on Saturday night; that what he did to any one or what any one did to him, was all a blank in his memory; that he felt his head and his shins soreish but could not account for it.

Wilson acknowledged, when questioned by the Recorder, that he did take a sun'm'ud on Saturday night; that what he did to any one or what any one did to him, was all a blank in his memory; that he felt his head and his shins soreish but could not account for it.

Wilson acknowledged, when questioned by the Recorder, that he did take a sun'm'ud on Saturday night; that what he did to any one or what any one did to him, was all a blank in his memory; that he felt his head and his shins soreish but could not account for it.

Wilson acknowledged, when questioned by the Recorder, that he did take a sun'm'ud on Saturday night; that what he did to any one or what any one did to him, was all a blank in his memory; that he felt his head and his shins soreish but could not account for it.

Wilson acknowledged, when questioned by the Recorder, that he did take a sun'm'ud on Saturday night; that what he did to any one or what any one did to him, was all a blank in his memory; that he felt his head and his shins soreish but could not account for it.

Wilson acknowledged, when questioned by the Recorder, that he did take a sun'm'ud on Saturday night; that what he did to any one or what any one did to him, was all a blank in his memory; that he felt his head and his shins soreish but could not account for it.

Wilson acknowledged, when questioned by the Recorder, that he did take a sun'm'ud on Saturday night; that what he did to any one or what any one did to him, was all a blank in his memory; that he felt his head and his shins soreish but could not account for it.

Wilson acknowledged, when questioned by the Recorder, that he did take a sun'm'ud on Saturday night; that what he did to any one or what any one did to him, was all a blank in his memory; that he felt his head and his shins soreish but could not account for it.

Wilson acknowledged, when questioned by the Recorder, that he did take a sun'm'ud on Saturday night; that what he did to any one or what any one did to him, was all a blank in his memory; that he felt his head and his shins soreish but could not account for it.

Wilson acknowledged, when questioned by the Recorder, that he did take a sun'm'ud on Saturday night; that what he did to any one or what any one did to him, was all a blank in his memory; that he felt his head and his shins soreish but could not account for it.

Wilson acknowledged, when questioned by the Recorder, that he did take a sun'm'ud on Saturday night; that what he did to any one or what any one did to him, was all a blank in his memory; that he felt his head and his shins soreish but could not account for it.

THE GERMAN GLEE CLUB.—By the following letters it will be seen that a little musical jubilee in honor of our gallant firemen, and celebrating the preservation of the St. Charles, is about to take place. It will be a brilliant affair, beyond question.

NEW ORLEANS, 12th Sept., 1840.—Sir,—"The members of the German Glee Club anxious to make a feeble demonstration of their sincere joy and gratitude towards the intrepid firemen, towards the preservation of the St. Charles Hotel is due, have requested us, as their president, to state that they will with infinite pleasure volunteer their services by giving a concert for the benefit of the Firemen's Charitable Institution."

I request you to lay this proposition before your board, and let me know as early as possible the resolutions the same will adopt in behalf of it. I am, Sir, Most friendly and respectfully, E. JOHNS, President.

GEORGE BEDFORD, Pres't Firemen's Charitable Assn.

NEW ORLEANS, 14th Sept., 1840.—DEAR SIR,—I am directed by the members of the Fire Department, in acknowledging receipt of your note of the 12th instant, to express to you, and through you to the members of the German Glee Club, their warm thanks for their generous offer and grant for the benefit of the Firemen's Charitable Association.

A committee of the Association will consult with you, relative to the necessary arrangements to be made. Respectfully, your obed't serv't, GEORGE BEDFORD, Pres't.

INVISIBLE MUSICIANS.—Bassford, in New York, an old caterer for the public, has got a new thing which has caught the fancy of the people "like winking." He has fashionably refurnished rooms to which a bit is charged for admission, and the ticket also procures the usual amount of things not disagreeable to the ear.

ASSASSINATION.—A Captain McAdam of the Canadian Volunteer corps stationed at Phillipsburg, Missisquoi bay, Lower Canada, met a Lieutenant Farquhar of the same service on the street on the 1st instant, drew a loaded pistol from his breast, and discharged its contents in the body of his unfortunate victim.

THEATRICAL.—Both the National and Tremont theatres, Boston, are now open. Marble is at the latter.

AN INVETERATE ROGUE.—The Richmond Star mentions the case of a young man in that city respectively connected, who successively entered the two Baptist churches in that city and stole the bibles, which he afterwards sold.

4th July at Sea. Bang! for the devil's that! oh lord! That struck—I had forgot; 'Tis the 4th July; and 'twas at sea! We must forget it not!

THE DAY WHEN A LONG STRING OF NAMES A scribbled parchment inkin', "Declared" that men were equal, and That minds were made for thinkin'!

THE DAY WHEN IT WAS SETTLED, THAT Some folks call perfection; Some folk will feel to be a state Of amiable subjection!

THE DAY WHICH FIXED A PRINCIPLE, Which ain't no longer new; That folks once fit for freedom are Sure to achieve it too!

THE DAY WHEN IT WAS SETTLED, THAT Some folks call perfection; Some folk will feel to be a state Of amiable subjection!

"An O'er Trade Tale." A Blackleg enacts the Southern Rascal.—Life in Buffalo.—Grand Roping by Game.—Religion and Love.—Matrimony and Merchandise.—The Demagogue.

Mr. Russell, spoken of above, was in this city last spring. He told us of the doings of Henry H. Taylor at the North; they were on an extensive scale; he went the "big figure" in the "roping in" business.

He said he owned a large cotton plantation in Point Coupee, Louisiana; that he was also possessed of much valuable landed property in Texas; that his wife, for whom he entertained the most affectionate regard, had recently died; that he was about to sell out his property in Louisiana and had decided on settling in Texas, where he designed opening an extensive mercantile business in the importing line; and that finally, the object of his Northern tour was two-fold: first, to dissipate that grief of which the death of his amiable wife had been the source, and next to purchase merchandise for his embryo establishment in Texas.

By unanimous consent, as it were, he became a great man in the eyes of the Buffalobians. He patronized the theatres, Sunday school societies, cigar sellers, livery stable keepers, tailors, shoe makers, and in fact the whole town. They all looked upon him as a Southern man with Northern principles.

There was stopping in the same hotel an old fashioned British officer, who had shared the perils and the glory of many a well fought field; his wounds were the medals which told of the battles he'd been in.

There was stopping in the same hotel an old fashioned British officer, who had shared the perils and the glory of many a well fought field; his wounds were the medals which told of the battles he'd been in.

There was stopping in the same hotel an old fashioned British officer, who had shared the perils and the glory of many a well fought field; his wounds were the medals which told of the battles he'd been in.

There was stopping in the same hotel an old fashioned British officer, who had shared the perils and the glory of many a well fought field; his wounds were the medals which told of the battles he'd been in.

There was stopping in the same hotel an old fashioned British officer, who had shared the perils and the glory of many a well fought field; his wounds were the medals which told of the battles he'd been in.

There was stopping in the same hotel an old fashioned British officer, who had shared the perils and the glory of many a well fought field; his wounds were the medals which told of the battles he'd been in.

There was stopping in the same hotel an old fashioned British officer, who had shared the perils and the glory of many a well fought field; his wounds were the medals which told of the battles he'd been in.

There was stopping in the same hotel an old fashioned British officer, who had shared the perils and the glory of many a well fought field; his wounds were the medals which told of the battles he'd been in.

There was stopping in the same hotel an old fashioned British officer, who had shared the perils and the glory of many a well fought field; his wounds were the medals which told of the battles he'd been in.

There was stopping in the same hotel an old fashioned British officer, who had shared the perils and the glory of many a well fought field; his wounds were the medals which told of the battles he'd been in.

a call not to pass unregarded. The $18,000 worth of goods were shipped in "good order and condition," and he and his blooming bride, ere yet the honey moon had waned away, were on their route to the South—the sunny South.

The first certificate of deposit for $23,000 was given by the New York broker to the Orleans Bank. The brief reply was, on examining it, N. F.—"no funds," in fact nothing was known of Mr. Henry H. Taylor nor his certificates of deposits, further than that they were all forgeries, and remarkably good ones at that; so much so that they deceived the New York broker, who was quite conversant with the cashier's signature, and would almost deceive himself.

The unfortunate officer's daughter found she was deceived by a villain; she left him, heaping curses on his head. He was put in prison, and the result is told in the extract which we take from the New York Sun.

There is a moral in all this. Northern people should not believe that every one who goes there from the South is the owner of large plantations. Northern ladies, whether officers daughters or others, should not fall in love with Southern gentlemen in a day and marry them in a week. And merchants should be cautious how they take certificates of deposits at the South.

The public and private life of Fanny Elssler is published in New York, price 12 1/2 cents. Fanny is taking steps to have the work suppressed.

STREMBART SUNK.—By the St. Louis Republican of the 5th we learn that the steamer Paul Jones, from this city to Florence, sunk on the morning of the 12th ult. in the Tennessee river, five miles above Savannah. Boat and cargo a total loss.

A FISH OUT OF THE NET.—In Philadelphia, a few days ago, a man named Trout, was divorced from his wife, by proclamation.

The editor of the New Orleans Picayune has heard of a case of hydrocephalus, and makes as much ado about it as if he never heard of such a thing before. Don't be alarmed, Pic—there are those beside yourself with water in the brain.—Tattler.

Not much water in your brain, or your stomach either. Don't be alarmed, Tattler—there are those beside yourself who can't bear water.

The yellow fever has made its appearance in New Orleans.—Pittsburg Express.

What shall we see in print next about the moral city of Boston? Why, it is said now that places are established where ladies meet and become intoxicated! Say this is a slander, you Boston editors, or we'll cut your acquaintance.

A SEA MONSTER.—The New York papers of the 3d inst. bring us the relation of a cold blooded murder committed on board the schr. Oread, while on the Delaware, bound to Bristol, (Bucks county). While at anchor in the night, Morris, the cook, killed a man named Aaron Cross, and wounded a boy with an axe; after which it is supposed he left the vessel, as the boy, fearful that all on board had been killed, remained in the fore-castle until relieved by the captain and mate.

ANOTHER CHANGE.—A young lady at the west has promised to marry her lover, provided General Harrison is elected President. The way the young man, who was formerly a loco, is going it for "whig principles" isn't slow.

NEW ORLEANS MONEY MARKET. Corrected Daily by W. W. White & Co., Exchange Brokers, 31 Camp street.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

ARRIVED. Sch'r Dream, Koffey, Galveston, Bryan, Austin & Co. Sch'r Alsbaman, Harkeiss, fm New York. Sch'r Tiber, Corvell, fm New York.

REMOVED. TAYLOR, HARTT & CO. have removed to No. 25 Chartres street, next to the corner of Customhouse street. sept 15

WANTED. A MAN who is fully capable of packing and mailing papers. A steady and sober man can have constant employment from us. sept 15 LUMSDEN, KENDALL & CO.

WANTED. TWO good steady Copper and Tin Smiths to whom steady employment and good wages will be given. Apply to J. B. WALSH, Poydras st. between Canal and Iberville streets. sept 15

FIRE HOSE MISSING. MISSING from the first St. Charles Hotel two lengths of FIRE HOSE, one fifty and the other twenty-five feet long. Any information concerning them will be thankfully received by the subscriber. L. CATENNE, Office of Municipality. sept 15

REWARD. STRAYED OR STOLEN.—From the subscriber on the 7th instant, a black (small) creole COW with broad horns, each end having an inch sewed on—branded on her right hip with something like 35 or 25. She was expected to have calved the day that she was missing—and undoubtedly has one now. A. HINRICHS, Cor. Basin and St. Thomas st., faubourg St. Louis, sept 15 3d

FANCY JEWELLER. NO. 81 CHARTRES STREET. FANCY JEWELLER. My friends and the public that he has just received per barque Clarion, a fine assortment of patent lever watches, gold guard chains, gold key chain, watch fobs, and Tea Spoons, and several other articles.

WINTER'S RED DROP. JUST received from the proprietor in New York and for sale by the agent at No. 72 Magazine street, New Orleans, a fresh and full supply of the incomparable and highly recommended successively and justly celebrated, and highly recommended, this great and mighty medicine and benefactor of unfortunate man has been extensively and successfully used, and highly appreciated by the medical faculty in most parts of the world for upwards of forty years, that it needs no eulogizing by me; suffice it to say, that it is now confidently offered to the unfortunate by the agent at No. 72 Magazine street, as a safe and speedy cure for all secret diseases—whether with the French Specific and other preparations. Also, a quantity of Rubrics. THE AGENT. sept 15 to thitw

OFFICIAL DRAWING OF THE GRAND STATE LOTTERY. CLASS NO. 80 FOR 1840. 38 34 22 62 24 15 45 8 11 59 73 50

OFFICIAL DRAWING OF THE LOUISIANA LOTTERY. CLASS NO. 90. 63 11 61 73 26 45 9 33 18 7 64 32

OFFICIAL DRAWING OF THE LOUISIANA LOTTERY. CLASS NO. 90. 63 11 61 73 26 45 9 33 18 7 64 32

OFFICIAL DRAWING OF THE LOUISIANA LOTTERY. CLASS NO. 90. 63 11 61 73 26 45 9 33 18 7 64 32

OFFICIAL DRAWING OF THE LOUISIANA LOTTERY. CLASS NO. 90. 63 11 61 73 26 45 9 33 18 7 64 32

OFFICIAL DRAWING OF THE LOUISIANA LOTTERY. CLASS NO. 90. 63 11 61 73 26 45 9 33 18 7 64 32

OFFICIAL DRAWING OF THE LOUISIANA LOTTERY. CLASS NO. 90. 63 11 61 73 26 45 9 33 18 7 64 32

OFFICIAL DRAWING OF THE LOUISIANA LOTTERY. CLASS NO. 90. 63 11 61 73 26 45 9 33 18 7 64 32

OFFICIAL DRAWING OF THE LOUISIANA LOTTERY. CLASS NO. 90. 63 11 61 73 26 45 9 33 18 7 64 32