

Some friends have gone, but others filled the ranks
To gather round the fire with words of love to greet,
While modern modes of travel, took them many a mile,
New sights to see, keeping their spirits gay and sweet.

And so dear friends, we're glad to know you've reached
This mile stone rare of sixty years together,
And wish to speed you on your way for many more,
Till God in his great love, calls you to Him forever,
