

So many changes have met in passing,
Grand children, great, have gathered round their knees.
To bring their baby smiles in happiness to greet them and little baby ways which never fail to please.

Changes that come to many have been kind to them
For they're still living in the same old spot where one of them was born, mild natures milds, and brought to this his mate to share his lot.

Some friends have gone but others filled the ranks,
To gather round the fire with words of love to greet,
While modern modes of travel, took them many a mile
New sights to see, keeping their spirits gay & sweet.

And so dear friends, we're glad to know you've reached
This mile stone rare of sixty years together.
and wish to speed you on your way for many more Till God in his great love, calls you to him forever. Mellie D
