And they all lend their help in ways they best may:
To aid in these pleasures at the close of the day.

There is one more I should mention, and he's not so ^{slow}.
For he starts us all off with his greeting "Hellow"
"Hurry up; get the key, start right on the dot"
"You can't run to Ketch up, and I will help us a lot"
"For the more we get together, the happier are we!"
"It helps me to know you, and you to know me."
He's a great entertainer, for he takes us all out
To visit the Country, on a nice rural route:
To Mr. Donald's old farm, where they keep lots of chicks.
With turkeys and ducks, plenty of hay in the ricks.
And "Three big fat Cows", sitting round on a tree
Flapped their wings and cried, you sure can't get me
Then we "Follow The Glean" to "Solomon Levi's Store"
But "Keep in de Middle ob de Road" "Now the Day is Over"
For "Day is Dying in the West", the "Lower Light Be Burning"
"I've Been Working on De Rail Road" and to Home, ^{wer turning it} Sweet Home,
Then "In the Gloaming", with his "Darling Nellie Gray"
We'll have "Loves Old Sweet Song", and "Dixie Land" "Look-a-Way"
Then bring "Dem Golden Slippers", I see a singing ^{sweet} ^{soft} ^{and} Low
When Roked in the Cradle of the Deep, I "Lightly Row".
