

om Brewsterman
As long.

Be kind to the aged, their journey
To see you they come full of hope
I say something nice to fill them with
For life is not all a big joke.

As for Kester, he thinks your supply would wear out.

You are giving so many away.

Some seem to think they would be a great

But every one to his taste I (I would say

Now as for hats, there are all types

On them they nothing lack

And people always do enjoy

When you put on the monkey act.

I am not looking for a orchid

Nor can I try for a rickety ring man.

So we'll leave it for just what it is

A friendly off by letter, on you.

Good luck to you is a home

Both for old and for young