

Good by to the Rock,

For the God who gave us life
And food and raiment too,
Did not forget in His great-works,
The wonderful and new,
And as he made the rocks to rise
And rear their heads on high
And painted pictures of his love,
In flower and tree and sky.