

Old Faithful.

It stands upon the mantle
Its face calm and serene
We love its merry tick tick
And its hands are always clean

'Tis the wireless family member
Calling us at break of day:
To arise, be up and doing
For time flies in many ways.

Time to feed the hungry baby
Get the breakfast for the men
Who must rise to face the day's work:
Be it Colliege, Store or Pen.

Time to get the children coming
From their beds, that is their rule.
"Rise you little sleepy heads
You must soon be off to school."
